

The water got so deep that the island started to get all covered with water. The frogs were very scared.

Then the frog's saw one big rock sticking up out of the water. All 3 frogs climbed on the rock and waited for the rain to stop.

Finally the rain stopped and the sun began to shine. When the flood water went down the frogs saw that they had been sitting on the big toad! They said "You saved us!"

The frogs jumped into the water and swam together all around the island.

The frogs played together - jumping up in the air to catch butterflies.

Then all the frogs went back on the island to rest. They were happier than they had ever been before.

They looked around and saw the beautiful water, and the peaceful land and the sunny sky and they all said that the best part is "It's ours!"
